Full-Time Volunteer Territory Representative

Ran a self-built, referral-based outreach territory across three states for 18 months, the closest analog on this resume to an outside B2B sales seat: a personal quota, a CRM pipeline, and daily accountability for building a territory from nothing.

- Grew participation across a three-state territory by identifying, developing, and maintaining influential local advocates who referred others in, reducing reliance on cold outreach.
- Wrote a specific objective before every visit and completed a follow-up evaluation after every visit, tracked through a CRM pipeline, to keep improving outreach effectiveness.
- Met daily and weekly performance targets consistently, and onboarded and mentored a new representative to do the same.
